

How to Check Licence Conditions for eJournals

To find out if you're allowed to use a copy of an eJournal in a course pack or on the LMS, check the Library Catalogue for information about the licence or terms of use.

1. Go to the Library homepage - <http://library.unimelb.edu.au/> - and click on the link for the catalogue.

2. Select Title from the drop-down menu and enter the journal title. Click on Search.

3. Click on the link for the journal.

The screenshot shows a search results page with the following elements:

- Search bar: TITLE, journal of economic perspectives, Search Entire Collection, System Sorted, Sort, Search.
- Options: Limit search to items available for borrowing or consultation.
- Actions: Save Marked Record, Save All Records, Save Marked to My Lists.
- Section: TITLES (1-2 of 2)

5. The Terms of Use for the journal will be listed and you will be able to see if you can use the articles in a course pack or on the LMS.

The screenshot shows the 'Connect to: American Economic Association' page with the following details:

- Database name: American Economic Association
- Other database name: AEA
- Description: The American Economic Association aims to encourage economic research, especially the historical and statistical study of the actual conditions of industrial life.
- Authorized Users: University of Melbourne staff and students have access to this electronic resource. Walk-in users on the Library premises also have access to this electronic resource.
- Print: Yes : reasonable portion
- Download: Yes : reasonable portion
- E-Reserves/LMS: Yes : reasonable portion
- Scholarly Sharing: No
- Course Pack: Yes : reasonable portion
- Walk-in users: Yes
- Interlibrary Loans: No
- Perpetual Access: No
- More information: For an explanation of what these license terms mean click here

To find out if you can make copies of articles available on the LMS, check the section titled E-Reserves/LMS. If it states “electronic links only” this means that you can only link to articles. If it states “Yes: reasonable portion” this means that you can make articles available. However, the definition of reasonable portion varies from journal to journal. We recommend that 1 journal article from a journal issue or 2 or more articles on the same topic would most likely be considered a reasonable portion.
